

NAMES OF THE IDENTIFIED DEAD
KILLED IN THE EXPLOSION AT HALIFAX
6 DECEMBER 1917

McAlpine's Halifax City Directory, Volume L for the year beginning July 1st 1918 and anniversary newspapers include a list of the names of the identified dead. The lists appear to have been drawn from an original report found in the Nova Scotia Archives as MG27 Vol.1 #287 which has some corrections and additions different from the published version. Additions are marked here with an asterisk. The original also contains a reference number which corresponds to a ledger entry with additional information about the deceased. The age, name and burial place as well the name, residence and relationship of the person who made the identification are often given.

For example: No. 457 male age 46 years
 name Nathaniel Aikenhead
 address Richmond
 Identified by Mabel Aikenhead, wife 30 Salter St.
 Buried Fairview Cemetery

These records may all be found on Nova Scotia Archives and Record Management (NSARM) microfilm Nos. 15124-15126. Please note that pages 28, 29 and 30 of the original list is missing so many surnames beginning with the letters S and T do not have corresponding ledger reference numbers. Also in the records of Olive's Funeral Home of Truro, recently indexed and microfilmed by GANS, several victims of the Halifax explosion were noted who had apparently been transported to Truro but died of their injuries. It is supposed that many others could have similarly been transported to other towns where supplies and services were available in the days following the explosion.
